

I do hope that the FCC is listening on this subject. If you do not say "NO", the issue will drag out for years with the courts making the final decision. The field testing does not support BPL, and will destroy radio communication forever.